

Early Years ONLINE RESOURCE

Do you have children aged 4 or under? If yes, then this FREE downloadable resource will your child extend their learning capabilities and improved their problem-solving skills at home when not in school. I have provided a useful list of websites for your child/ren to take part in and some of these activities can be printed out and used along with a range of interactive online games to keep them occupied. Parents can join in the learning fun with their children and/or set them tasks to complete independently. If you want to push your kids further and provide them with additional learning activities other than what they receive from school these different websites will assist you with that.

For you work from home Mama's with children approaching key stage 1 this is a great resource that will keep them occupied whilst you get on with your work. Some of the websites listed in this resource are chargeable so please check before you register your child for any e-learning resources.
